Herut Union to Organize Municipal Workers

TEL AVIV — The Herut-sponsored National Federation of Labour will shortly form a national organization for members employed by local authorities, it was learned here on Sunday.

The establishment of this new body will probably affect labour relations in this city, where the Herut-sponsored Union claims 1,000 members to the 4,500-strong Histadrut Union of Municipal Employees. Until now, the city management has recognized the Histadrut union as representative of its employees but with the formation of the new national body, it is assumed that the Herut body will also demand greater recognition. This is certain to be opposed by the local Histadrut Labour Council, it is understood.

The importance of a national organization of this kind for Herut in the forthcoming municipal elections was emphasized by Mr. D. Rozenzweig in this month's issue of the National Federation's journal.

Cobalt Therapy Clinic for Haifa

Jerusalem Post Reporter

HAIFA — A modern cobalt therapy clinic, the first in the North and the third to be opened in this country, was dedicated here on Sunday at the Italian Mission hospital by Monsignor Antonio Vergani, of the Latin Patriarchate. The first of the many patients already registered for treatment will be received at the clinic today. The ceremony was attended by the Italian Ambassador, Count Giovanni Revedin, members of the consular corps, the District Health Officer, Dr. P. Mosseri, and numerous doctors and members of religious orders. The Hospital Director, Dr. M.F. Rosi, said that the cobalt therapy apparatus for the clinic was acquired from the Picker X-Ray Corporation, of the U.S., with approval of the Ministry of Health. The hospital had already signed an agreement with Kupat Holim to treat the latter's patients, and had 12 patients in the ward already. The clinic had already signed an agreement with Kupat Holim to treat the latter's patients, and had 12 patients in the ward already.

The Ambassador said that the apparatus was bought with funds paid by Israel in compensation for war damage suffered by Italian citizens and institutions. He presented the Order of Merit of the Italian Republic to Magr. Vergani for his services to the Roman Catholic community here.

The telecobalt therapy apparatus cost $40,000, while another $140,000 was spent in reconstructing the room in which it is housed; the walls are now 95cm. thick as a safeguard against its effects from radiation.

The machine works on a two-square centimeter cobalt isotope, which cost $10,000. It loses 50 per cent of its potency after five years of use and must then be replaced. It is housed in a Tungsten drum inside a two-ton lead drum of 1,500 R.H.M. (Roentgen per hour at one-meter distance). The advantage of the apparatus over conventional X-ray machines is that it penetrates deeper with less radiation effect on the skin. When in use, only the patient remains in the room; the rest of the apparatus is in a lead-lined room. The patient is treated through a lead door and observes the patient through a window, opposite a mirror facing the apparatus.

A similar machine is already in operation at the Assuta Hospital in Tel Aviv, and another is being installed at the University Hospital in the Capital.

Registration Soon For J'lem Children's Band

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Registration among elementary school pupils, aged 12-16, for Jerusalem's planned Military Band and Drum Corps is to be opened today. About 40 pupils are expected to register. The band will be held up pending the selection of two conductors. The Band will have more than 40 members and will be Corps about twice that number, since it will have also 55 fifes.

The majority of the instruments for the band were obtained in Germany, although the Ministry of Education and Culture provided some.

The German company supplying the instruments designed the "glockenspiel," the carillon which is an integral part of such bands. Generally, the "glockenspiel" bears an eagle, but the one received here bears a Magen David.

Moreover, it has blue-and-white stripes and a Magen David on each side where regimental colours are generally affixed.

Israel Wants Turkey on World Blind Unit to Represent M.E.

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Israel's sponsorship of Turkey to represent the Middle East in the Executive of the World Council for the Welfare of the Blind was accepted enthusiastically by all the 43 member nations except Egypt and Jordan at the recent Congress of the organization in Rome, it is learned.

Egypt and Jordan had joined forces earlier to propose an Egyptian delegate, after announcing that they did not recognize Israel.

Israel thereupon sponsored the Turkish delegate for the post, after persuading Turkey to list herself as a "Middle East country."

(Since Turkey straddles the Dardanelles, she can appear either as a Middle East or a European country.)

Mrs. Ora Michaelson, Chairman of the Israel Association of the Blind, presented this country.

Her announcement that Israel was growing the virus of trachoma and that the serological tests had been completed, thus bringing the project one step nearer the development of a vaccine, was greeted enthusiastically.

There are 9,497,000 blind persons in the world, 7,038,000 of them in rural areas. Of these, there are 750,000 in Egypt, 8,000 in Jordan and 5,000 in Israel.

Jerusalem Council Approves Slum-Clearance Programme

Jerusalem Post Reporter

The Jerusalem Municipal Council on Sunday night took the first step towards eliminating the Capital's slums and providing alternative housing for those living under "inhuman conditions."

There are some 2,500 families living under such conditions, and it will cost 120m. to build them new houses at an estimated outlay of 12,000 for each flat.

The plan approved on Sunday night calls for the building of 500 units in the Roma, Lifta and Bak'a Quarters. The Ministry of Labour has agreed in principle to build these flats and is to advance each household a considerable mortgage.

The Municipality is to provide another mortgage.

The householders themselves are expected to pay only 11,500 when entering their new homes, plus a monthly rent of 1,500 which will go towards paying off the mortgage.

Mayor Gershon Agron called for a stepped-up building programme, accompanied by an explanatory campaign among the Jewish community living under sub-standard conditions, in order to enlist their full support for the scheme.

The Ministry of Labour, in addition to agreeing in principle to the programme, has also offered 100 asbestos huts, with all internal fixtures, for those living in slum areas.

It was recalled that the city has almost solved the problem of those living in condemned flats. It had built for 200 families, leaving only 50 still to be accommodated.

The city's housing programme was debated at length by the council, which finally supported the measure, asking mainly that the conditions of payment for the new householders be eased further.

The Municipality also extended by six months its contract with the Mekorot company, signed three years ago, to supply water to the capital.

Mr. Rahamim Kalantar, Vice-Mayor, noted that the "dreadful smell" emanating from the vicinity of the former Givat Shaul dump would soon be eliminated when the compost there was removed.

Harman Leaving For U.S. Post on Sunday

Jerusalem Post Reporter

Prime Minister D. Ben-Gurion yesterday received the Ambassador-Designate to the U.S., Mr. Avraham Harman, who is due to leave next Sunday to take up his post.

Mr. Harman's replacement as Head of the Jewish Agency's Information Department has not yet been decided upon. Agency circles say that Mr. Ya'acov Tsaur, the former head of the Jewish Agency's Information Department, is still a likely candidate.

Mapai's delay in discussing a new appointment for the post, which is a Mapai-held portfolio on the Agency's staff, has been due to the fact that Mr. Golda Meir's recent absence and the fact that Mr. Levi Eshkol has been on leave.

C'ttee to Study Hired Labour in Bus Co-ops

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — The Histadrut Central Committee on Sunday set up a five-man enquiry committee to propose solutions to the problem of hired labour employed by the country's three bus co-operatives.

A sharp divergence of viewpoints emerged during the discussion between the managements of the co-operatives and the employees' committees on the best ways of eliminating hired labour.

Mr. Y. Kahana, of the Dan employees, proposed that the Histadrut enable them to form competing bus co-operatives.

Mr. A. Majlar, of the Dan management, expressed the co-operatives' readiness to accept a limited number of employed technicians and drivers as members. The other categories of employees such as conductors, watchmen and garage-men could organize themselves as sub-contractors. This would afford them a measure of independence of the co-operative, he suggested.

The enquiry committee decided upon at the meeting consisted of Mr. Y. Moshe, Chairman, and Messrs. Z. Orr, S. Blaiss, B. Linn, and Y. Woschina.

Prof. Kotsuchi, who will remain here for about two months, was received at the airport by representatives of the Society for Proselytes.

'Popular Loan' Agents on N 330,000 Charge

TEL AVIV. — Two managers of the Securities Agency Ltd., which is in process of liquidation, were last week accused of misappropriating 123,000 in bonds which they held as trustees.

The charges against the two, Arye Kigod, of Tel Aviv, and Ya'acov Noy, of Ramat Gan, were filed in the Tel Aviv District Court last week by the firm's liquidator, Mr. Eliezer Oren, a Tel Aviv accountant.

In a sworn statement, Mr. Oren charged that the two, who had been engaged in the sale of Popular Loan bonds to persons on the installment plan, had misappropriated the bonds, and in some cases sold or mortgaged them to obtain loans. He also said that the two had pocketed the price awarded to bonds in their possession which were the legal property of their clients. He further charged that the firm's books had been tampered with and that receipts showing that the firm's clients had received their bonds had been forged.

Examined Books

Mr. Oren claimed that all this came to light when he examined the firm's books, having acted as official receiver and later as liquidator of the firm. He said that the company's present assets were enough to pay creditors only 100 pruta in the pound. He added that, in the meantime, acting as liquidator, he had attached the personal assets, bank accounts and other possessions of the two in order to guarantee a maximum return to the creditors.

He asked that the Court order the two to return the sums allegedly misappropriated and to impose an additional fine on them. (Itim)

Council Set Up For Rehovot Parley

Jerusalem Post Reporter

REHOVOT. — The formation of an Israeli Council to advise and assist in the arrangements for the projected International Conference on the Advancement of Science in New States was announced here on Sunday by Mr. Abba Eban, President of the Weizmann Institute.

Mr. Eban announced the appointment of Dr. Amos Manor, hitherto on the staff of the Preparations Corporation in Tel Aviv, as Secretary-General of the conference.

Invitations to join the Council of the conference have been sent out to a large number of leading figures in all walks of life in this country, Mr. Eban said. He hoped to have their acceptance within the next few days. In particular, the leading institutions of higher learning here and abroad were asked to send representatives.

Before the end of the month invitations would also be sent to a large number of eminent scientists, political and economic experts and representatives of international organizations to join a committee of overseas sponsors, he added.

It is planned to hold the conference at Rehovot in July 1960. The panel of speakers is expected to number about 30, while the number of delegates another 60 or 70 delegates and observers.

Organizing Committee

Outlining the preliminary arrangements for the conference, Mr. Eban said that an organizing committee had been set up under his chairmanship and had held several meetings in Rehovot. The first instance, by a sub-committee, was Mr. Meyer W. Weisgal, Mr. Aharon Remes, Prof. G.M.J. Schmidt, Mr. Julian L. Meltzer, and Mr. M. Schla. Mr. Schla, of the Weizmann Institute, Brainerd and Miss Lillie Schultz, of New York, had been nominated special consultants to the conference organizing body.

The Institute's President said that a tentative agenda had already been framed and was now being reviewed in the light of the views of the committee, under his own chairmanship, comprising Professors I. Ben-Zur, I. Dostrovsky, M.M. Schmidt, Amos de Shalit, M.C. Shalevnyak, and Mr. Meltzer.

The agenda would be submitted to the first meeting of the Israeli Council which he hoped would be held at Rehovot within the coming month.

The purpose of the conference is to examine the ways in which new states could be aided by modern science and technology to solve their acute social and economic problems. The agenda will include surveys by leading world scientists of the advancement of modern technological progress for the advancement of new states, especially in Africa and Asia. (Itim)

Amman Rotary Uses Club As Anti-Israel Platform

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — The Secretary of the Amman Rotary Club has used this international institution to promote Arab propaganda against Israel. It is reliably learned here. This is the second known instance of politicization of Rotary by the Arabs. The first was an anti-Israel letter published by the Cairo Club about two years ago.

Eas Kavar, Secretary of the Amman Club, has sent a letter to the Long Island Club in the U.S. describing Jordan as one of the small Arab countries of the "Middle East" which is inhabited by one and one-half million people, a third of whom are refugees from the "Palestine" area.

"These refugees and another half-million in the other Arab states are living in the most wretched conditions in mud huts and tents. The food supplied to them by the United Nations (U.N.-R.W.A.) is of very meagre quantity and quality."

Jordan is an underdeveloped country, Mr. Kavar goes on, and it received aid from the U.S. and our King received a hearty welcome in your country, yet the Arabs are very angry from the fact that the U.S. Government and people for helping the Jews to dominate their country and drive them from their homes and establish the State of Israel.

Mr. Kavar does not dwell further on "this political problem which is endangering world peace." "Time and understanding," he adds, might help remedy the "wrongs inflicted upon the one million refugees."

HAIFA. — The subway which runs so smoothly and fast on its rubber wheels continues to generate friction and discord at the City Hall. At a meeting on Sunday night, the Municipal Council, by a majority decision, approved a proposal by Mayor Abba Khouby to hold a special session at the end of this month to fix the date when operations are to start.

The proposal was hotly contested by the General Zionist Council, Mr. Zvi Zimmelman, who said that the question had been on the meeting's agenda and should be debated at once.

The French expert's report did not preclude operating the subway even before the end of this month, as only one station (at Rehovot) was not completed, he said.

Allon Protests Committee Rebuke

TEL AVIV. — Mr. Yigal Allon, M.K., on Sunday protested against the interim decision of the Knesset House Committee, which on Thursday expressed "shock" at the language used by him towards Sheikh Saleh Salem, M.K., a week earlier.

In a letter sent from Kibbutz Gennosar to the Chairman of the House Committee, Mr. Allon complained that the decision was taken "without first giving him a hearing."

In explaining his absence from the Committee meeting, Mr. Allon wrote that he had been away from home and had not received notification of the meeting. The manner of publication of the interim decision and its contents had led him to lose confidence in the Committee and he saw no point in appearing at further meetings on this subject, he declared.

Concerning the Sheikh's complaint, Mr. Allon wrote that he was sorry for the misunderstanding but "nothing personal" was implied and he was a member of the honorable Knesset Member was insulted.

Wadi Salib Inquiry Turns Spotlight on Education

Jerusalem Post Reporter

HAIFA. — Problems of education were spotlighted by witnesses appearing before the Wadi Salib Inquiry Commission on Sunday. Mr. Ya'acov Sarid, Deputy Director-General of the Ministry of Education, said that "there is not a pupil suited to undergo secondary education who is unable to do so for financial reasons."

Abu-Mishne Ze'ev, the Army's Education Officer, told the Inquiry that the forces will send groups of servicemen who are about to be discharged to vocational training centres to equip them for civilian life.

Inquiry Not To Be Extended

The Cabinet decided on Sunday not to broaden the terms of reference of the Wadi Salib Inquiry Commission to cover other disturbances, as was requested in the Knesset by the General Zionists and proposed to the Cabinet by the Minister of Labour, Mr. M. Namir.

It is understood that the main reason for this decision was the inability of most Commission members, and particularly its chairman, District Judge M. Etzioni, to continue their work for a longer period than originally planned.

Mr. Sarid, enlarging on the work of his Ministry during the first ten years of statehood, said the school-age population has risen from 97,000 to over 500,000; a network of 1,000 schools has been built from scratch, immigrant teachers were trained in a hurry — sometimes for as little as three weeks — and gradually the quality of education and of school facilities had been raised.

Room in Moshavim For Settlers

Jerusalem Post Reporter

HAIFA. — "There are over 1,300 vacancies in moshavim settled exclusively or predominantly by immigrants from North Africa and Asia in Wadi Salib willing and able to adapt itself to farm settlement, and which is approved by the local moshav communities, will be able to move to new homes in the country, just like any new immigrants," Mr. Raanan Weitz, Director of the Jewish Agency's Settlement Department, said "this before the Wadi Salib Inquiry Commission here on Sunday morning."

Mr. Weitz said that of the 251 moshavim set up in the first decade of statehood, 82 were settled by newcomers from North Africa. Investment totalled 11,500 per family, of which 11,400 went mainly for housing and livestock, and the balance for indirect development costs, such as water and power supply and road-building. The income of the settlers ranged from 11,400 to 12,400 per year, excluding 11,400 worth of home-grown supplies. They did not have to pay any rent. "Some barely earn their keep, others are doing very well," he added.

TEL AVIV. — Four young children, two of them deaf-mutes, were detained over the weekend in Tel Aviv on suspicion of theft at public swimming pools.

decide on which movements would qualify for such benefits under this decision.

The Minister of Education, Mr. Z. Aranne, is also to determine the status of the Religious Scouts movement in the public religious elementary schools in accordance with the decisions of the Religious Scouts are part of the general Scouts movement.

The Cabinet decided also that the Ministry of Education should increase its supervision over the Scouts' activities to ensure its continued non-political character.

The committee's report was long overdue since it was due to report back to the Cabinet within two weeks from its appointment. The committee held five sessions all during last year and made a thorough examination of the Scouts' activities and educational programme conducted by them to those of other youth movements.

The official communiqué read: At its regular weekly meeting on Sunday, the Cabinet heard a report from the former Ambassador to France, Mr. Ya'acov Tsaur.

The Cabinet also discussed the findings of the Ministerial Committee that studied the activities of the Scouts movement. It was decided to permit the Scouts movement to conduct its activities in the public elementary schools, as its principles and activities were found to be in keeping with the time state education as expressed in Paragraph 2 of the State Education Law of 1953.

Learn a Trade

Some 2,000 men a year now acquire a trade during their army service. A vocational guidance service is at the disposal of these men who wish to consult it, and groups are now sent on training courses prior to demobilization.

Labour Council Secretary Avshalom Eshet, giving evidence before the Inquiry Commission on Sunday night, repeated that political factors were at the root of the men who wish to consult it, and groups are now sent on training courses prior to demobilization.

Other tools in the battle of education and absorption were the Army periodicals, the Army broadcasting service and theatrical groups.

Jerusalem Post Reporter

HAIFA. — The man who slapped Mayor Amin Jarjura in the face last week, Ibrahim Hallak, was released from detention on 11,500 bail on Sunday despite the fact that he was remanded for four days on Friday.

Attempts are being made to arrange a sulha (a reconciliation) between the two warring families. Mayor Jarjura announced that he regarded the assault as directed against the entire Municipality and would refuse to remain in office any longer.

The members of the sulha committee are the Greek Orthodox Metropolitan, Isidoros, Sheikh Saleh Salem, M.K.; the former Mayor of Nazareth, Yusef Fahum, and a number of notables from the various communities in the town. They held separate meetings on Sunday with the Mayor and Hallak in an attempt at reconciliation.

The committee is also considering arranging a sulha between Hallak and the Jabali family, of which the Municipal Treasurer is a member. The entire dispute started when Hallak quarrelled with the Treasurer over slaughtering fees.

It is also learned that Archbishop George Hakim and the former Representative of the Latin Patriarchate in Israel, Magr. Antonio Vergani, also called on the Mayor on Sunday.
